Canoeists set to make a splash at canal event

A FESTIVE family canoe paddle will be held in Burscough on Sunday (December 13).

England's first coast to coast canoe project is hoping to make a big splash this Christmas with two 'Santa Splash' paddles in Burscough and Bootle.

Canoeists are invited to join in the festive fun on the Leeds–Liverpool Canal. There will also be an opportunity for people without canoes to take part by booking a paddling slot on a larger boat, provided by the Coast to Coast project team.

The events are being hosted by the Canal & River Trust. At the Santa Splash events, prizes for the best dressed Christmas–themed canoeist and canoe will be on offer, plus free lunchtime food for everyone who takes part.

Festive food and drink will include a hog roast, mulled wine and hot chocolate and there will be arts and crafts on the canal bank.

The Burscough Santa Splash will start at 11am at the Grove Youth Club on Burscough Wharf. Volunteers will guide canoeists up to the junction with the Rufford canal arm before returning to Burscough again – a round trip of about 1.2 miles.

Coast to Coast project manager, Greg Brookes, said: "Our Santa Splash events offer all canoe enthusiasts a chance to get festive and enjoy a winter paddle. Everyone is invited to cheer them back and enjoy lunchtime festive food, arts and crafts.

"We hope every canoeist will enter into the Christmas spirit by dressing up and decorating their canoe. A flotilla of floating Santas should be tremendous sight – a first for the Leeds & Liverpool Canal!

"This is not a race. People can just come along and have fun or if they want to raise money for charity at the same time that is also fine by us. Children are welcome but will need to be accompanied by an adult."

CHURCHGOERS TAKE SLEEP–OUT 'TEST' IN AID OF HOMELESS!

By Danielle Thompson

CHURCH members from across West Lancashire will be hoping to bring home the 'true meaning of Christmas' by taking part in a sleep–out 'test' to raise money and awareness for a charity for the homeless.

More than 30 volunteers from churches across the borough will sleep under a marquee and with minimal 'comforts' near to the Ormskirk clock tower as part of the Advent Sleepout Challenge from 7pm on Saturday (December 12) to 7am the following day.

Members of local churches, St Anne's Roman Catholic Church, Ormskirk Parish Church, Cottage Lane Mission, Emmanuel Methodist United Reformed Church, Ormskirk Christian Fellowship and Christ Church Aughton, will take part in the challenge, a national initiative led by the Church Urban Fund charity set up by the Church of England to help deprived communities.

The sleep–out events aim to reflect the Bible Christmas story of Mary and Joseph who, having travelled to Bethlehem and found no room at the inn, took shelter in a stable where the baby Jesus was born.

Groups all over England will take the Christmas story as inspiration to create their own 'stable' in the run–up to Christmas and give up a night of comfort by sleeping outside.

The Ormskirk group will also be holding a collection of clean clothes and blankets to be given to the homeless community and refugees in the UK and abroad.

Stuart Haynes, director of communications for the Diocese of Liverpool, told the Champion: "We have been given permission by the council to erect a marquee but we will have the bare minimum in terms of equipment – just cardboard boxes and sleeping bags – to experience as closely as possible what rough sleepers have to endure each night.

"We aim to bring the message to the forefront that Christmas is so much more than parties, Christmas trees and lights.

Some of the church members ahead of their sleep–out challenge at the clock tower Code1086361

"We will be sleeping rough as the real message of Christmas is to think about others. We will be raising funds and awareness of this important charity.

"Jesus was born in a stable and in uncomfortable conditions and we will be trying to gain an

Now she's been nominated for national award

Report by Henry James

WHEN mum–of–four Zofia Goddard decided to turn her hand to children's literature she didn't have to look far for inspiration.

Glancing out of the window of her home in Parbold one day her attention was captured by the birdbath in her back garden – and the result was The Bird Bath, a 52–page publication targeted at pre–school children up to the age of five.

And it has earned the 36–year–old a nomination for the People's Book Prize UK. The annual award for first–time authors sees titles nominated by publishers and voted for by the public.

Available on Amazon and in Waterstones, the text for the book took Zofia just 20 minutes to write. She also did all the illustrations – although they took her a little longer to complete.

Zofia, who previously worked as an occupational therapist, is now working on a second book to be published in e–book format.

Zofia with her book

She said: "The book only took me about 20 minutes to write and it's all in rhythm and rhyme but the illustrations took a good few months – before the book, the last time I did art was for A–Level!"

The book is about birds and a naughty cat who have to share a birdbath and its message is about the importance of sharing and taking turns.

Zofia added: "One day I was just looking out of the window at the birdbath in the back garden and it triggered some thoughts.

"This is the first book I have had published. I had about 40 stories and I sent a variety to publishers in the UK and America and had some positive feedback from some, including for this one.

"In total it has taken about a year to turn it into a book. It's 52 pages long but, I believe, very easy to read.

"I have dedicated it to Our Lady and All Saints Primary School in Parbold where my children are pupils and I have also read stories to the children there as well.

"I'm really proud to have my work published – I've got a second one due out as an e–book – it's a great incentive for me to keep going with my writing.

Death crash driver jailed for two years

Report by Lynda Roughley

A MOTORIST whose car ploughed into a cyclist causing fatal injuries has been jailed for two years.

A poignant victim impact statement by widow Fabienne Richmond telling of her family's painful loss since the tragic death of her husband Daniel, reduced many in the court to tears, including the driver, Andrew Irish, who had admitted causing death by careless driving but denied that it had been dangerous.

However, a jury at Liverpool Crown Court convicted him on Thursday, December 3 of the more serious offence and Judge David Aubrey, QC, said that only an immediate sentence of imprisonment could be imposed.

The jury had heard that 35–year–old Mr Richmond, father of a young son, died after Irish took a bend too fast and collided with the cyclist coming the opposite way on the other side of the road.

Such was the impact of the collision on Runshaw Lane, Euxton just after 9.10 am on Sunday, April 13 last year, that part of Mr Richmond's bike was sent hurtling over the bridge on to the motorway below, said Charles Lander, prosecuting.

Irish had bought the black Audi Quattro just a week earlier for £12,850 but cross–examined he denied that he had been trying to see how fast it would go.

The 38–year–old of Andertons Mill, Mawdesley, near Ormskirk, told how a blue Astra had been close behind him making him feel pushed and Judge Aubrey said he accepted his driving had been compromised by the existence on the road of the Astra.

"It was being driven at an inappropriate speed and very close to your vehicle and that caused your distraction and failure thereafter to manage your speed accordingly.

"The accident arose from your failure to negotiate that bend because you were driving too fast and lost control of your vehicle."

Tragedy

He pointed out that the tragedy happened at an accident blackspot and chevron signs had not been replaced after being damaged in an earlier incident.

"This case represents a human tragedy which has devastated two close, loving families," he said.

He pointed out that the life of Irish, who has three young children, has been changed forever and he had shown contrition from immediately after the crash and been visibly deeply moved by the victim impact statement.

Irish had told the jury that he relives the fatal day every day and said: "It isn't fair, it should have been me."

Judge Aubrey told Irish, who is being treated for post traumatic stress disorder and depression: "I am satisfied you are a broken man. You are described by a psychiatrist as having severe thoughts of guilt and express self–hatred towards yourself."

He banned Irish, who has no previous convictions, from driving for three years.

The jury heard that Irish had been travelling at about 52 mph on the road which has a 60 mph limit and he said he had not seen the red warning bars and 'slow' written on the road. A police expert estimated the safe speed for negotiating the bend was no more than 30 mph.

Despite the efforts of motorists, as well as ambulance staff, Mr Richmond was pronounced dead at 9.40am that morning from multiple injuries.

Irish stopped immediately after the collision and rang the ambulance services and told them he had "skidded on the corner and hit a cyclist coming the other way."

Joel Bennathan, QC, defending, said that it was an accident blackspot and his error lasted just five to ten seconds. "He tried his best but in vain to try to put right what he had caused."

Bingo players hit the jackpot for care home

Bingo players enjoying their fundraising night at the Stanley Institute Club

BINGO players hit the jackpot when they raised more than £1,000 for pensioners living at a care home.

The bumper total was raised when staff at Stocks Hall Care Home in Burscough hosted their annual Christmas Bingo event at the nearby Stanley Institute Club.

A host of gift–wrapped prizes were up for grabs, many kindly donated by local businesses, and the evening raised a grand total of £1,023 which will go towards Christmas and New Year parties for the residents at the home in Liverpool Road South.

Manager of the home, Sammi Molyneux, said: "It was a wonderful night and lovely to see everyone – residents, their families, friends, staff and Burscough community – having a great time together."

Thugs targeted OAP in own home

POLICE are hunting two thugs who pushed their way into a pensioner's home in broad daylight and made off with a small amount of cash.

The two intruders approached the property in Appley Lane North, Appley Bridge between 1.30 and 2pm on Monday, November 30 and entered pushing the homeowner, a 71–year–old man, out of the way.

The pensioner tried to phone the police but one of the offenders snatched the telephone from his grasp. They then proceeded to search the house before leaving with a small amount of money.

Both the men were white. One is described as aged 25 to 30, about 5ft 10in tall, medium build and wearing a dark woollen hat and dark clothing.

The other is described as aged 20 to 25, about 5ft 6in tall, of medium build and also wearing dark clothing.

Anyone with information is urged to contact police on 101 or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Council and police step up security in run–up to Christmas

High–vis patrols for Ormskirk town centre as part of enhanced campaign

WEST Lancs Council and their partners are working to ensure shoppers and visitors coming to Ormskirk are safe in the run–up to Christmas.

The council's CCTV system watches over the borough and provides reassurance to the community, as well as a valuable crimefighting tool for the police.

The cameras are monitored 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and operators are provide valuable assistance in preventing and solving crime.

In 2014/15 the CCTV unit recorded 1,096 incidents in their log. In addition to the 363 arrests that the CCTV operators assisted with, a number of the incidents also resulted in the police or PCSOs being able to intervene at an early stage to prevent trouble from escalating into something more serious.

Operators keep in close contact with local businesses and the police through the Shopwatch radio scheme, meaning officers can be alerted and respond to any incident as quickly as possible.

As well as the CCTV coverage in the town centre, West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership is planning an enhanced campaign in Ormskirk town centre on one of the busiest weekends of the festive period. This will see the police on high–visibility patrols with the council's licensing and CCTV teams on Friday and Saturday, December 11 and 12. Funding for this has come from the police and crime commissioner for Lancashire, Clive Grunshaw.

Councillor Kevin Wright, West lancs Council's portfolio holder for health and community safety, said: "Crime is low in West Lancashire and we want to keep it that way. With Christmas around the corner we want people to feel safe when they are shopping or enjoying an evening out.

"Community safety is extremely important and CCTV and the enhanced Community Safety Partnership campaign over two of Ormskirk town centre's busiest nights will help us to prevent crime and reassure residents and visitors."

Dave Tilleray, West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership chairman, said: "We want everyone to enjoy themselves this Christmas but also encourage people to help themselves by behaving in a responsible manner and looking after their own personal items."

And West Lancashire police inspector June Chessell said: "The CCTV system is a powerful tool that will assist in not only preventing crime but enable my staff to identify the small minority who are intent on committing crime or anti–social behaviour. We will be working closely with our partners over the festive period to ensure a Happy Christmas is had by all and that people feel safe."

There are currently 98 CCTV cameras across the borough, including Ormskirk town centre and various key locations, and the council is looking to install more in the coming year.

Festive fundraiser

She was joined by town crier, Don Evans to open the fair and an auction which raised a total of £760 for the West Lancs branch of the national older people's charity on Saturday (December 5).

Organiser, Gary Heron, said: "The weather was awful but we still had a fantastic turnout and raised a great total.

"We had so many people turn up and we were also well supported by local businesses for the auction.

"Boots donated make–up, the Ormskirk Fellowship donated £100 of Marks and Spencer vouchers, we were given free meals and bottles of wine by local pubs and Argos gave us a heater as well!

"It was a wonderful day and we are now planning to make it an annual event."

Management forum formed to achieve key targets of town centre strategy

Report by Henry James

AN important step has been taken towards achieving the aims of the Ormskirk Town Centre Strategy with the formation of a management group made up of representatives of key stakeholders with the aim of making the strategy's goals a reality by helping to make the town centre a more vibrant and attractive place for visitors, shoppers and retailers.

The strategy's key aims include:

• Developing a brand, marketing campaign and improving the management of the town centre.

• Improving and enhancing the appearance and appeal of the town centre including making the most of the town's historic character.

• Reviewing the current car parking arrangements.

• Improving the current transport and access arrangement in the town.

• Considering opportunities to improve the evening economy, such as working with local retailers to explore the opportunities to keep their stores open later to coincide with events such as evening entertainment, evening markets and outdoor food and drinks festivals.

The management group is made up of a number of local organisations including, Business in the Community, Love Ormskirk, Ormskirk Community Partnership, Edge Hill University, Edge Hill Students' Union and West Lancs Borough Council and is the first forum established to help bring these key stakeholders together to improve the town centre.

Council leader, Councillor Ian Moran, said: "I am very pleased the new town centre management group has been formed. Ormskirk currently has 95.5% of its shops occupied and is the joint lowest town in the North West for vacant retail units. The strategy will play a key role in ensuring Ormskirk remains successful and has an exciting future which will benefit us all, and it is important that businesses, the council and the community work together to achieve this."

The final Draft Ormskirk Town Centre Strategy and action plan is available online at http://www.westlancs.gov.uk/regeneration.

As part of the new management structure a number of sub groups will be established made up of representatives of the key local organisations. These sub groups will deliver specific actions from within the town centre strategy, such as branding and marketing, enhancing the public realm and improving the market and car parking.

The final draft of the Ormskirk Town Centre Strategy has now been adopted by the council's cabinet and the council is currently in the process of securing formal endorsement of the strategy from all stakeholders on the management group. Once the document has been formally endorsed by all parties the final strategy will be published early in the New Year.

Town centre ban on cars is hitting the elderly – claim

Report by Danielle Thompson

THE daughter of a disabled woman claims the pedestrianiation of Ormskirk town is making it impossible for the elderly and infirm to access vital facilities in the town.

Champion reader, Lindsay Parrish, claims her 92–year–old mum, who is almost blind, hard of hearing and has difficulty walking, was unable to attend a hearing test because they couldn't park near enough to the hearing centre in Church Street.

And she called on the highways authority, Lancashire County Council, to provide access and parking for Blue Badge holders within the pedestrianised area.

However, a spokesman for the authority said that Blue Badge holders are permitted to park for up to three hours on double yellow lines in nearby streets.

Lindsay said: "My mum is distinctly wobbly on her legs even with her zimmer and is also getting hard of hearing. As a result, she needs a hearing test and some advice. But the hearing centre is in Church Street which fronts the pedestrianised central area and is too far away from any of the car parks for her to walk.

"How are elderly people supposed to use local services when they are brushed aside like this?

"I'm not asking to take my mum for a cup of coffee, I'm trying to get her to a local facility where she can have a hearing test!

"It seems that most facilities in Ormskirk are now off limits to the elderly and immobile who have to be transported by car. Surely this is tantamount to discrimination?"

Ridwan Musa, highways manager for Lancashire County Council, said: "We have to balance the needs of everyone who wants to access the pedestrian area and the new parking and access restrictions in Ormskirk are intended to create a more welcoming environment for shoppers, visitors and businesses.

"The prohibition of driving except for loading during the day is vital to this. Blue Badge holders are able to park on double yellow lines for up to three hours on nearby streets which are a very short distance from businesses and facilities in the pedestrian area."

Coffee morning raises £830 for cancer charity

MORE than 90 people attended the Aughton branch of the North West Cancer Research fundraising committee's annual Christmas coffee morning at the Women's Institute Hut on Town Green Lane raising in excess of £830 for the charity.

The committee has been raising money to support cancer research since 1966. Secretary, Ruth Griffiths, said: "It was wonderful to see so many people at our festive coffee morning and a great start to what will be our 50th year of fundraising."

Party time for long–serving care home staff

LONG–serving staff at a local care home have been recognised for their dedication with a party and presentation.

Manager of Stocks Hall residential and nursing care home in Liverpool Road South, Burscough, Sammi Molyneux, presented members of the staff who have served 10 years or more with certificates, flowers and vouchers before they enjoyed a buffet.

Hospital praise for family fundraisers

By Danielle Thompson

MANAGEMENT and staff at Ormskirk Hospital have paid tributes to three inspirational families who between them have helped to raise £40,000 for a new transport incubator for premature babies at the hospital.

Steph and Milly Beqo, from Ormskirk, raised £20,000 by staging a sponsored by climb of Mount Snowdon in Wales along with 100 family members, friends annd work colleagues. Their efforts were inspired after daughter, Mia, who was born three months prematurely, received treatment at the neonatal unit.

Emma and Lee Graham, from Formby, started raising funds for the unit three years ago after their son, Theo, was born 10 weeks early. During the last year alone, they have raised £13,000 through a variety of actvities including a charity ball, raffle, bag–packing and a shopping event.

And Andrew and Sarah Malm from Ormskirk have raised £10,000 in memory of their son, Rudy, who died in 2010, despite the best efforts of staff at the unit. The couple, who have two other children, three–year–old Dollie and two–year–old Arty, raised the money by being sponsored to complete the Three Peaks Challenge.

The new incubator will be used to transfer babies from the delivery suite to the neonatal ward, as well as between hospitals when needed.

Sister Karen Wareing, neonatal ward manager at Ormskirk Hospital, said: "It was a fantastic amount to raise that, as well as paying for the incubator, has allowed us to buy the necessary monitors to go with it. We feel very thankful and fortunate that parents want to fundraise for us and we really do appreciate all donations, however big or small.'"

Simon Featherstone, director of nursing and quality for Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust, said: "I want to thank them and everyone who contributed time and money towards the transport incubator which will be a lifesaver for babies for years to come."

Man exposed himself on train, court told

By Our Court Reporter

AN Ormskirk man who exposed himself to a fellow traveller on a morning train out of Southport claimed he was just trying to adjust himself, a court was told.

Scott Brew, 21, of Plex Moss Lane, sat directly across the aisle from a Southport woman on a carriage that was otherwise empty.

Giving evidence at Sefton Magistrates Court where Brew stood for trial for intentionally exposing his genitals intending that someone would see them and be caused alarm or distress, the woman said she thought it strange that he sat so close to her and so tried to avoid eye contact by looking out of the window.

After hearing the sound of clothes rustling, she then became "quite nervous" when she heard him coughing as if trying to grab her attention. However, "out of instinct" she couldn't help looking when he again coughed loudly and she saw him smirking and exposing himself.

"He looked at me in the eyes and then looked down at himself as if to say look at this," she said.

The woman called him a pervert, the court heard, and ran off the train to alert station staff, leaving a book behind in the hurry. She said she was "quite hysterical" and warned another woman not to get on the train.

Represented by solicitor Rachel Barrow, Brew said that he was using the Southport to Manchester train to get to work in Wigan because he'd broken his collar bone after falling off his scooter.

He had sat down near to the woman so as to be near to the door and avoid bumping into people with his injury, he said. He had thought that because she was avoiding eye contact she would not have seen him as he tried to adjust himself and the zip came undone by accident in the process.

Embarrassed

The court heard that during a first interview with police, he denied that his penis was erect, but admitted it during a second interview the same day.

He said he'd lied because he was embarrassed but prosecutor Alison Clarkson said he lied because he knew he was in trouble. "You had every reason to lie, to try and wriggle out of what you had done," she said.

Finding Brew to be "unconvincing" but the woman to be "clear and compelling", the magistrates found him guilty of the offence.

He will be sentenced on December 21, following an all–options probation report, and was told he will have to sign on the Sex Offenders Register.

Soap stars shine through clouds at charity's first Christmas Fair

Event raised £1,700

MORE than 300 visitors battled the elements to enjoy the first Christmas Fair at the Legacy Rainbow House in Mawdesley.

Hollyoaks actors James Sutton, Anna Passey and Nick Rhys posed for photographs and talked to guests before peforming the lights switch–on at the event.

The day raised around £1,700 for the charity, which provides rehabilitation, education and fun for children, young people and adults with neurological conditions such as cerebral palsy, brain injury, stroke, MS and genetic conditions.

Youngsters got the chance to meet Princess Elsa and receive a gift from Santa, while the adults enjoyed musical entertainment a range of stalls including jewellery, skin care, toys, cakes and biscuits.

Volunteers from the Women's Institute served tea and coffee and for those not driving there was a welcome seasonal glass of mulled wine.

The event was also attended by six–year–old Leon Paul Salamanca–Walsh from Ormskirk whose parents launched the Love for Leon appeal to help with ongoing costs associated with his medical problems.

Leon suffers from aspiration, a condition that results in food and fluid penetrating his airways and enters the lungs and also has an undiagnosed chromosome disorder and is unable to speak or walk.

Rainbow House chief executive, Carole Cochrane, said: "We were delighted with the success of our first Christmas Fair which raised much–needed funds and awareness of the importance of the services we provide."

Pupils' helping hand for African project

Headteacher Gillian Serjeant and some of the pupils present Chris and Lara with their donation Code1085681

Report by Danielle Thompson

TWO volunteers who are set to fly out to Africa next year as part of a community charity project returned to their former school to collect a welcome donation and give pupils an inspiring talk on the aims of the scheme.

Youngsters at Burscough Village Primary School raised an amazing £821 for the Ugandan International Need appeal by performing a sponsored dance to the 2010 South African world cup song, Waka Waka.

The money was presented to Lara and Christopher Webber, representing worshippers at St John the Baptist Church in Liverpool Road North who are running the project.

Lara and Christopher, who used to attend the school in Colburne Close, spoke to the pupils about how the congregation are fundraising to support a well–digging project in the community of Misandye in Uganda and shared how excited they are to be travelling to work on the project next summer.

Headteacher, Gillian Serjeant, said: "The whole school got involved with the Waka Waka dance and raised an amazing £821. Staff, pupils and governors are delighted at the continued strong support from the families. We are also proud to be able to support Christopher and Lara and wish them well in their venture next year."

Changing name would take away Edge Hill's individuality

I WAS delighted to read the postive comments from Maurice George and Graham Wilson (Letters, November 25) about Edge Hill University but wish to disagree with Maurice's comments on name change.

Edge Hill is now a well–known brand and has been successfully marketed nationally. The accolades the university has received over many years, including 'University of the Year 2014' have been achieved under that name. To rename now would almost be like starting again.

To suggest that it is a relic of the past is far from the mark. You are actually referring to its history which has been developed with enormous success over a long period of time.

To suggest that it will cause confusion is also far from the mark; it has not done so since arriving in Ormskirk in 1936.

You could argue, with the same confused thinking, that the Battle of Edge Hill was fought there!

To think of renaming the institution as West Lancashire University would take away its individuality – we already have a Central Lancashire University and a Lancaster University.

Such a name also gives a hint of politics. Incidentally, I believe that the West Lancs Council suggested such a change in the early years of independence from the Local Education Authority which, after discussion was rejected by both board and management.

No change please – allow Edge Hill University to continue with their individuality delivering the highest form of education in the land and of the highest quality.

Yes, we are proud of it and it still belongs to all of us as Edge Hill.

Bob Wilson, Ormskirk

Councils have a watching brief over all happenings in their area

IN reply to Chris Cheetam's letter ('Council is not to blame for everything' – Letters, November 25) local councils are the first tier of government and have a watching brief over all happenings within their domain.

Their ability to do this is a measure of their competence, failure to do so is a measure of their incompetence. They always opt for the easy and obvious.

Having served as an engineer in the navy, worked abroad, ran my own company, and worked as a managing engineer for Wigan and Lancashire County councils in their property departments, I am qualified to criticise West Lancs Council.

Council senior management have little, if any experience of working outside the council. To compensate for this they hide behind paperwork, edicts and nebulous, ill–conceived, badly thought–out guidelines.

Council culture is one of non–confrontation with staff, management is non–existent, so a laissez–faire system exists. In other words, they are just left to get on with it.

We must work towards a better system, free from nepotism, with more experienced private sector staff, less agencies being used, experienced, cost–effective control and more people who know what they are doing.

Graham P. Walker, Up Holland.

So, just who should we hold to account for these broken promises?

So Mr Cheetham (Letters, November 25) says I should get out more.

Well, I do get out and I see what kind of amenities other places have, unlike, it seems Mr Cheetham.

For him to make the sort of comments he has is strange.

Is it nonsense to know that Burscough, Ormskirk, Southport, even Wigan, has all the amenities that I said Skelmersdale should have? Instead of having a go at me he should be getting on to the council for making promises to the people of Skelmersdale that they do not keep.

Also, the council wasn't always under such money restraints. And if the people can't hold the council to account when they break their word, who can we turn to? Why are they in power?

Also, if shop rents were lower maybe we would have more shops.

So, please Mr Cheetham, think of what you want to say before you put your pen to paper.

Does he not think the people of Skelmersdale deserve what other places have?

He says the council does not run everything, well who does?

It's about time someone took charge of the St Modwen farce, how long has this gone on?

David Carter, Digmoor, Skelmersdale

Community support is vital to protect vulnerable children

CHILD sexual exploitation affects vulnerable children and has been identified by the police as the biggest threat in the UK apart from terrorism.

The support of schools is absolutely vital to the work that The Children's Society does in tackling this abuse. Our work with these children can literally change lives but we can only do this with the ongoing support from local schools and communities.

Every penny raised this Christmas will go towards our specialist projects which are providing crucial support to children whose lives have been affected.

Thousands of young people are being sexually exploited in every type of community across the country and children as young as 10 are being targeted.

We want to double our long–term support and help as many children and young people who have been victims of this abuse to stay safe and rebuild their lives through our specialist services. Your readers can help us do this by raising funds and having fun whilst getting into the Christmas spirit.

As Christmas approaches there are thousands of carol–singing and Christingle events being organised across the country in aid of The Children's Society. We need as many people as possible to organise a carol singing event or go along to their local Christingle and donate to support our work.

We are so grateful for the support we already receive from communities and we are proud of the fantastic festive events that go on in support of our work.

To view all of our free resources please visit www.childrenssociety.org.uk/christmastime.

Matthew Reed, chief executive of The Children's Society

University should accommodate all students on campus

IT is true that Edge Hill University has become like a 'cancer' in our midst with student landlords eating up all our small houses which would formerly be starter homes for young families and retired people.

Doug Elliot, Burscough

Dogs need to be trained with love not punishment

I WOULD like to respond to the Champion's recent story on 'pinch collars'.

You should train dogs with love, not punish them. Owners should not be allowed to buy these collars –and those who think that they need them should be 'sorted out' not the dogs!

There should be a law that idiots cannot own dogs. I have had dogs all of my life and I have seen so many idiots being brutal to their dogs – it's all about the training.

If you train a dog well, he will be as good as gold and that's the end of it.

Infuriated dog owner (name and address supplied).

Not good enough!

TEMPORARY traffic lights in Prescot Road were causing havoc in Ormskirk last month and no–one came out for eight days to carry out repairs.

That's absolutely not good enough! A faster timetable is needed for sorting out repairs.

Angry Prescot Road resident (name and address supplied)

MP unable to attend vote on air strikes after knee replacement op

ROSIE Cooper was unable to attend the parliamentary debate and vote on the issue of UK air strikes against ISIS in Syria last Wednesday (December 2) after undergoing knee replacement surgery.

In a statement to the Champion, the West Lancs MP explained: "I am aware from constituents' correspondence that there are strong opinions on both sides as to whether Britain should be involved in such military action in Syria. In the last few days, however, I have undergone knee replacement surgery.

"Having just been discharged from hospital this surgery will prevent me from attending Parliament for any vote on air strikes in Syria. The timing of the surgery has also prevented me from being part of the debate and discussions over the last week."

Still time to comment on council draft leisure strategy

RESIDENTS in West Lancashire are being reminded that there is still time to comment on the borough council's draft Leisure and Playing Pitch strategies.

These were approved for consultation at the council's meeting on October 21 and cover the period 2015–2025.

They encompass the council's built sports facilities, arts and ranger services, a community centre, play provision and playing pitches.

The draft strategies set out a proposed strategic direction for leisure and cultural services going forward and would replace the council's existing 2004 strategies.

They outline key aims and actions including establishing a project team to undertake the procurement of a new partnership arrangement from April 2020 when the current arrangement with West Lancashire Community Leisure Trust/Serco comes to an end.

This would include options for securing significant capital investment for the council's built sports provision, subject to the finances available, as follows:

- Developing a new sports centre for Skelmersdale, to replace Nye Bevan Pool.
- Replacing Ormskirk's Park Pool.
- Refurbishing and/or enhancing the sports facilities at Burscough Racquets and Fitness Centre and Bank Sports Centre.

Other key aims/actions include:

- Addressing the under–provision of football pitches at youth and junior level.
- Supporting the development of linear parks and other cycle routes linking urban areas within the borough.
- Working with partners to expand the GP Referral Scheme and develop sports activities for young people to tackle childhood obesity.
- Providing enhancements to the Chapel Gallery and producing a commercial development plan which includes the scope to rent studio/display space.

The consultation ends on Sunday, January 10. To see the strategies go to the council's website www.westlancs.gov.uk/more /your–views and click on the link 'Draft Leisure Strategy and draft Playing Pitch Strategy'.

Report by Henry James

TENANTS of one in every 39 rented homes in West Lancashire are at risk of eviction, according to research by the housing and homelessness charity, Shelter.

The analysis, which uses Ministry of Justice figures, ranked the borough as fifth in a list of eviction 'hotspots' in the North West.

According to Shelter's findings one in every 53 rented households in the North West have been put at risk of losing their home.

And the charity is warning that a worrying combination of rapidly rising rents, drastic cuts to housing benefit and the chronic lack of genuinely affordable homes will leave thousands of families battling to keep a roof over their heads this Christmas.

The figures also show that about 10,700 renters in the region have already lost the fight to stay in their home and been evicted by county court bailiffs in the last year.

Now officials of the charity are making an urgent appeal for donations to its emergency appeal to help ensure no family has to face the trauma of losing their home.

Alison Mohammed, Shelter's director of services, said: "Each and every week, hundreds of people in the region receive a notice through the door with the devastating news that they might lose their home.

"We speak to parents every day who are desperately trying to keep a roof over their children's heads, but with rents soaring and housing support being slashed, many are finding themselves at breaking point. Already, more than 1,100 children in the North West will wake up homeless and in temporary accommodation this Christmas, and tragically the situation looks set to get worse.

"Our advisers will be working non–stop over the festive period to support families at risk of losing their home – but sadly our helpline is receiving a huge number of calls and our services are straining under the demand.

"We desperately need more support from the public to help us be there for these families and make sure no–one has to fight homelessness on their own this Christmas."

Shelter's helpline is open all year round, including Christmas day, staffed by a team of experts offering free advice and support.

Charity for adults with learning difficulties awarded £3,900 grant

A CHARITY which provides work experience and training opportunities for adults with learning difficulties has been given a grant of almost £4,000 to cover renting office space and extra supplies.

Timesavers was set up in 2010 to provide an office administration service for voluntary sector organisations in West Lancashire to give work experience opportunities for people with learning disabilities who have found it difficult to find paid jobs or work placements in office administration.

Lancashire County Councillor Steven Holgate, the Champion for Disabled, has awarded them £3,600 to cover the cost of their office rent for three years, plus £300 for printer ink, paper and card.

Timesavers secretary and charity trustee, Edward McCarthy, said: "This will provide our charity with three years of security and also enable us to grow."

The Champion for the Disabled is allocated £10,000 per year for organising meetings and conferences and to give grants or loans to individuals, community groups and charities.

Former rugby star aims to inspire students

A FORMER international rugby player and record–breaking endurance athlete is to speak at Edge Hill on Friday (December 11) as part of the university's Celebrating Sport events.

Richard Parks, who represented Wales four times between 2002 and 2004 before a shoulder injury forced him to retire, will give a talk entitled 'Living life to the extreme: Sport, Achievement, Endurance' outlining how the psychological, physical, technical and emotional aspects of being an elite sportsman have translated into his extreme expeditions and how he uses these skills.

The 38–year–old made history in July 2011 becoming the first person to climb the highest mountain on each of the world's seven continents and stand on both the North Pole and South Pole and the summit of Everest.

Richard Parks

He completed that '737 Challenge' in six months and 11 days raising more than £326,000 in aid of Marie Curie Cancer Care.

And in 2014 he became the fastest Brit in history to reach the South Pole, solo, unassisted and without support.

Richard said: "I am proud and excited to be a part of Edge Hill's Celebrating Sport events sharing some of my personal experiences from professional rugby to the expeditions I undertake now in the most hostile corners of our planet.

"Sport has the power to influence our lives beyond the obvious physical, emotional and psychological challenges it often presents.

"I'm looking forward to sharing some of my insights and having some fun in the question and answer session afterwards – uiversity students always have a knack of asking some of the most challenging questions."

Accolades for outstanding trio

The three – Lydia Seed, Katie Rennie and Rebecca Gregory – who attend Merchant Taylors Girls School in Crosby, received their awards at the ceremony to recognise academic, sporting and extra–curricular achievement at the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Hall.

Lydia, who also sang solo at the event, won awards for chemistry, physics and music.

Katie won the Merchant Taylors' Company Attainment Prize and the Helen Edwards Cup for creativity in the environment.

And Rebecca achieved accolades for her attainment in French, Spanish, religious studies and government and politics.

Health supremo hands over keys to hospital's new facility

Jeremy Hunt (left) hands the keys to Wrightington, Wigan and Leigh NHS Trust chief executive Andrew Foster and project director Chris Knights

HEALTH Secretary Jeremy Hunt this week visited Wrightington Hospital, part of the Wrightington, Wigan & Leigh NHS Foundation Trust, to hand over the keys for a new state–of–the–art orthopaedic facility and hear about the trust's award–winning research function based there.

Village Christmas Tree Festival date

THE Halsall Christmas Tree Festival will be held this weekend (Friday to Sunday, December 11–13).

There will be refreshments and a wide range of decorated trees to see from 2 to 5pm each day at the annual event at St Cuthbert's Church.

Entry is free but donations will be taken towards ongoing maintenance of the church.

Council urged to give electric vehicles a go

The Our West Lancashire representative claims that buying electiric vehicles for some of its services would have a double benefit for the council by reducing both running costs and air pollution.

Councillor Owens said: "We have installed a charge point at the council offices in Ormskirk yet strangely the council doesn't have any current plans to purchase electric or hybrid vehicles. Clearly these vehicles aren't suitable in every role, however, sales of electric cars have increased ten–fold in less than two years and their lower running costs would help a cash–strapped council and they would be suitable for short journeys made by some officers.

"Surely it's time to give them a try when the next suitable vehicle renewal falls due."

Cllr. Owens also highlighted environmental benefits, adding: "We have air pollution issues in parts of the borough and the council as a community leader should be piloting the use of these vehicles because of the positive contribution they could make to air quality."

The council though has confirmed there are no plans to purchase electric vehicles at present.

A spokeswoman for the authority said: "An electric car charging point was installed by the council on the car park at its Derby Street offices in Ormskirk to encourage the use of electric vehicles by the general public. Locating charging units in public car parks will further encourage people who buy electric vehicles to visit the borough as they will be confident they can charge their vehicles when they come here.

"While electric vehicles are not widely used at the current time, the infrastructure to enable this move has to be in place first, which is the overall aim of the installations.

"The council currently has no plans to buy any electric vehicles as its current fleet of vehicles is sufficient to carry out its services and it does not need any replacement vehicles at this time. When the time does come to renew vehicles, the council will consider all options for replacements.

"The vast majority of vehicles used by staff for business use are their own private cars.

"The council regularly reviews air quality and has an action plan in place to deal with any areas of concern that may arise."

Former chief constable joins charity's board of trustees

A FORMER chief constable of Lancashire Constabulary – and the first woman to hold the post – has been appointed as the chair of the board of trustees at The Legacy Rainbow House in Mawdesley.

Pauline Clare CBE joins the board of the charity, which offers rehabilitation and education for children and young adults with neurological conditions, as it looks to develop its services following the opening of a new, purpose–built facility, the Rainbow House Hub last month.

The charity offers rehabilitation and education services for children young people and adults with neurological conditions including cerebral palsy, brain injury and genetic conditions

Pauline, who left the force in 2002, said: "I'm really looking forward to helping the charity develop and to working with the other trustees to make this happen."

Have a say on police precept

LANCASHIRE'S police and crime commissioner, Clive Grunshaw is again asking residents to tell him how much they would be prepared to pay to bolster the force.

Mr Grunshaw has launched the latest phase of his consultation on the council tax precept and is encouraging residents to have their say responding to a survey on his website or on leaflets available from libraries and town halls across the county.

He said: "Most of the money to pay for the police comes from central government but around a quarter comes from council tax.

"The government has continued to reduce the amount it gives us towards policing and residents have generously supported a small increase in funding of around 6p per week (for a band D household) for the last two years.

"That may seem like a very small amount but a 2% increase will actually raise £1.3m and will help safeguard the equivalent of 28 police officers or 40 police and community support officers next year."

The commissioner said that despite the government announcing that the police budget nationally had been frozen for the next few years, Lancashire was still facing cuts to the level of funding it received to fund policing locally.

Impacted

He said: "Although the government announced a freeze to police funding in its comprehensive spending review last month, this doesn't mean our force budget is frozen or protected.

"The 'freeze' depends on increases in council tax for all areas around the country. In addition, investment in firearms units and counter–terrorism nationally will come from the overall budget. This means we will receive less in Lancashire over the course of the next few years to provide our local policing services.

"We have saved or identified £74m of savings so far, and this has impacted on officer numbers which by 2017 will have reduced by 900, with 700 police staff roles lost too. When more than 80% of the money the force spends is on staff, then it is somewhat inevitable that the workforce will need to reduce to save costs.

"What an increase in council tax of around 2% will do is maintain a number of roles that would otherwise be lost.

"I want everyone to have their say, so I am urging people to share the survey on their social media feeds with friends and family members who live in Lancashire.

"In order to ensure we get a representative sample of opinions we also undertake market research polling 100 people in each of our 14 district areas asking them the same questions. This is an approved technique that ensures we get a true picture of the opinions of Lancashire people."

Carols at the inn brought back memories of Christmas past

I HAVE decided that Christmas, for me, started last night.

Yes, 'festive goods' have been in the shops for many weeks and I suffered a very soggy and extremely windy Christmas lights switch–on (it took two days to dry out my not–quite–rainproof rain coat).

And of course I have been bombarded in various magazines about the plethora of Christmas goodies I too could cook up.

The trouble with most of those, for me at least and I suspect most folk living alone and cooking for one (if you discount the dogs) is that these recipes seem always to include a number of esoteric items for which I have no normal use and which bump up the cost just for most of whatever it is to end up in the recycle bin.

Until yesterday, though, there was precious little of what I like to think of at Christmas. And then, I went down to the historic Scotch Piper pub on the edge of Lydiate, where local people had organised a 'Carols at the Inn' celebration.

No amplifiers, no booming commentary, just the Maghull Handbell Ringers (who did the gig for free) a perfect setting and dozens of ordinary local people with their children (and dogs!) out to celebrate Noel by singing traditional Christmas carols with food and drink available and people you could hear to talk to.

Perfect!

And it brought back memories of Christmas Past too.

It's funny, but my specific Christmas memories are not of big events or presents, but small things that, for one reason or another brought Christmas home to me.

Like one rather dank evening shortly before Christmas Day when as a teenage schoolboy I got to Linacre Lane in Bootle on what was probably the last day of term from school in Crosby and I had to wait for a bus to get me to Aintree and then another to my home in Maghull.

I remember letting myself into the house where my senses were overwhelmed by the dual aromas of goose giblets being cooked up to provide the base for gravy (and a treat for whatever dog we had at the time) and mince pies baking.

Now my mum was not a very good cook – unless you wanted it boiled, fried or roasted – but she excelled at pastry and the promise of freshly–baked mince pies was irresistible.

Or the Christmas when I drove to Crosby to wish a friend a seasonal greetings on Christmas morning – the only one, incidentally, that I can recall when there was genuine thick snow on the ground – and I asked, not expecting to be taken up on it, if he would like to join us for our festive feast.

His mum and dad were quite happy with the suggestion, so off we set. Back home we found an extra dining chair from somewhere and thoroughly enjoyed ourselves.

Now, this will be my third Christmas alone with Tina and Cinders and I doubt it will go down in the annals as one of the most memorable. In fact, I would prefer it to be a quiet affair – though with happy little Cinders about that is perhaps unlikely.

But with a few more seasonal events like 'Carols at the Inn' hopefully to look forward to, at least I will try, as Dickens would have it, to keep Christmas in my heart (as well as my stomach).

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Manager Paul Kane feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton, Bootle, Formby, Ormskirk and Skelmersdale areas & Paul is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Paul a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Bank staff go back to nature

The Santander staff at Gorse Hill Nature Reserve

A GROUP of bank employees swapped the office for the outdoors when they volunteered to help build a pathway at a West Lancs woodlands.

The eight–strong team, from Santander's Bootle branch, got 'stuck in' with rakes and shovels to create a path for the public at the Gorse Hill Nature Reserve in Aughton.

Now thanks to their efforts – part of the bank's Community Days scheme – visitors to the reserve can enjoy some spectacular views of Gorse Hill's meadows and woodlands.

Sean Rabbitte, relationship manager at Santander corporate and commercial in Bootle, said: "It felt great being able to give something back to our community. We chose Gorse Hill as it relies solely on support from volunteers so we knew we could make a difference and ensure that locals are able to enjoy the scenery. Overall it was a great experience and a hugely rewarding day for everyone involved."

Chris Sandison, treasurer at the reserve, added: "Gorse Hill has been developed solely through the efforts of volunteers and with the support of its members and grant–makers, so we welcomed the offer of support from Santander.

"The team enjoyed their day and their enthusiasm was evident throughout so we would like to extend our thanks to the Santander corporate and commercial risk team for their hard work. There are always things to do around the reserve and we would definitely welcome the support of Santander in the future."

Mayor opens new pet store at garden centre

THE Mayor of West Lancashire officially opened a new business in Lathom.

Councillor Nikki Hennessy cut the ribbon to open Lathom Pets and Aquatics within the Warbreck Garden Centre on Lyelake Lane.

The business is owned by partners Susannah Sams, who lives in Burscough, and Katherine Broxholme who is originally from Skelmersdale.

Katherine, 23, has a BSc (Hons) in animal welfare, while 29–year–old Susannah has six years' experience of working in an aquatics shop.

The public enjoyed glasses of bubbly and an aquarium–themed cake at the launch, while children enjoyed activities including face–painting and pet–handling.

Group's gift to hospital

OFFICIALS of the Southport and West Lancashire Breathe Easy group have made a presentation of four nebulisers to Ward 9b at Southport Hospital.

The presentation was made at the group's annual general meeting at their base, the Girl Guide HQ in Green Lane, Ormskirk.

Group spokesperson, Patricia Ireland, said: "This donation illustrates how we use the funds we raise on equipment and services in Southport and West Lancashire, as well as making an annual contribution to the British Lung Foundation and disseminating information on respiratory disease in both our areas."

Council featured on list of Living Wage employers

WEST Lancashire Borough council is included in the GMB list of names of local authority employers in England, Wales and Northern Ireland paying a living wage of £8.25 per hour.

Last month the Living Wage Foundation announced that the 'living wage' should be raised by 40p per hour from £7.85 per hour to £8.25 across the UK.

Both figures are well above the current national minimum wage of £6.70 an hour and the Chancellor George Osborne's planned new National Living Wage of £7.20 for adults from next April, rising to £9 per hour by 2020.

Justin Bowden, GMB national officer for local authority workers, said: "The GMB supports the work of the Living Wage Foundation to raise wages and we will continue to make strong representation to all councils across the UK to make work pay."

A spokesman for West Lancs Council said: "The council pays a Living Wage supplement to its lowest paid staff in order to bring their earnings up to this threshold level. The supplement is reviewed annually after the Foundation's Living Wage rate is determined.

"The council first implemented the supplement on January 1, 2014 and the second year revision became effective from January 1, 2015.

"The Living Wage Foundation advises that the new rates should be implemented as soon as possible and within six months of the annual announcement. The revised rate was announced in the first week of November 2015."

Council leader, Councillor Ian Moran, added: "The council prides itself on being a good employer and this year I will be asking council to introduce the updated supplement in line with the Living Wage Foundation's recommendation back–dated to December 1, 2015."

Police chief says phone scheme will put more bobbies on the streets

A SCHEME which has seen more than 2,000 front–line police officers equipped with smartphones will also see more officers on the streets – according to Lancashire's police and crime commissioner, Clive Grunshaw.

The force–wide roll–out of the scheme follows a pilot project featuring 40 officers pioneering mobile technology.

Mr Grunshaw has funded the investment from an earmarked reserves budget set aside to ensure that officers are better equipped and he said that as a result of the scheme, uniform officers are now out on the beat for longer as they can access files they need on their Samsung Galaxy Note 4 devices without having to return to base.

The mobile devices are part of a £10m overhaul of IT infrastructure across the force designed to meet national requirements, improve security and streamline the number of platforms the force currently uses.

They run on EE's 4G network and are loaded with special policing apps allowing officers to read live crime reports, take witness statements electronically and access the Police National Computer to run checks. They are also able to post directly on to the constabulary's–plus social media accounts to make instant appeals for help or to engage directly with the public on local policing issues.

Mr Grunshaw said: "The phones work just as any other mobile but with the additional apps and folders needed to make them more effective in the job and to ultimately give officers more time on the streets of Lancashire.

"They will also improve the way people can get in touch with their local policing. Being more mobile means residents will see officers and PCSOs doing their work in the community, where members of the public can interact with them."

Clive Grunshaw with smartphone project lead, Inspector Dave Hannan

Lancashire's assistant chief constable, Mark Bates, added: "Officers will be able to offer greater visibility and ultimately a better service to victims of crime, particularly as they will now be able to contact their officer direct via email, text or mobile."

Training on the devices has been underway since September.

Security warning to businesses ahead of busy festive period

COUNTY police chiefs are reminding business owners to keep their property and money safe this Christmas ahead of an increase in takings.

Officers have been providing crime prevention advice to banks, jewellers and post offices before the festive period as part of a regional campaign to reduce the risk of robberies and thefts.

The move is part of Operation Vault, with police carrying out operations throughout December to prevent such crimes across the county.

Supintendent Simon Giles, of Lancashire Police's South Division, said: "In the run–up to the festive period many businesses enjoy an increase in takings and we want to ensure that it is the business that benefits from this financial boost rather than a burglar or robber who may seek to take this as an opportunity for unlawful gain.

"We want to raise awareness of such crimes to encourage businesses to take crime prevention steps to avoid becoming a victim."

Business owners are being advised to:

• Ensure that any intruder and panic alarms are fully operational and subject to an immediate police response in case of activation.

• Be extra vigilant during cash or stock deliveries/collections and make all your staff aware of the added risks at this time of year.

• Be mindful of suspicious activity on your premises during opening hours. For example, individuals who are inside but don't appear to be using any services/buying anything. They may be observing the layout of the premises or checking stock/cash delivery times.

• If you have a CCTV system, ensure that it is operational and that cameras are recording images from appropriate areas.

• Ensure that money is stored appropriately in a safe or other secure area.

• When visiting the bank with cash, vary your habits, for example, day, time and route; and consider how much you carry and where possible attend the bank in twos.

• Do not cash up until the premises are empty and known to be secure.

• Consider your 'lock down' procedures at the close of business to ensure that premises have been completely emptied and that no external doors or windows have been accidentally or intentionally left open.

• Report any suspicious activity to the police.

Supt. Giles added: "Police patrols will routinely be deployed across the county to monitor cash deliveries and collections and, if local businesses want the support of the police, they should let us know."

As part of Operation Vault units will be made available on strategic routes, including local hot spots and vulnerable areas, with locations to be decided week by week based on risk and threat assessments from community intelligence. Armed response vehicles and road policing units will be used where necessary working with neighbouring forces to identify emerging threats and respond accordingly.

Any suspicious activity should be reported to the police on 101 or by calling Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

In an emergency, always dial 999.

Win family tickets to see Dick Whittington at Empire

FORMER Coronation Street star Sally Lindsay has never performed in a pantomime before but that's all about to change as she's starring in Dick Whittington this Christmas at the Liverpool Empire – and The Champion has three family tickets to give away for the show.

This year's exciting all–star cast also includes Radio City's Leanne Campbell as Alice Fitzwarren, Pete Price as Alderman Fitzwarren, Eric Potts (Coronation Street) as Sarah the Cook and Kurtis Stacey (Emmerdale) as Dick Whittington.

They will be joined by Warren Donnelly (Shameless) who makes a welcome return to the Empire this Christmas to play the villainous King Rat after appearing as Abanazar in Aladdin last year.

Sally, who will play the magical Fairy Fazakerly in this year's production, is best known as Corrie barmaid Shelley Unwin and Lisa in Sky Living drama Mount Pleasant. Sally more recently appeared on screens in the critically acclaimed drama Ordinary Lies.

Sally said: "I'm nervous but excited about being in my very first pantomime. The Liverpool Empire is one of the most beautiful theatres in the country and I can't wait to be sprinkling some fairy magic there this Christmas. We've got a really strong cast, some of them I've worked with before, and I know Liverpool audiences are always up for a laugh so it's going to be a great show. I'm really looking forward to the panto season!"

Eric Potts, also known as Coronation Street Baker Diggery Compton, will delight audiences as the hilarious dame, Sarah the Cook. Although it's the first time Eric will perform in a pantomime here at the Empire, he is certainly no stranger to the tradition having spent the last 16 seasons appearing in pantomimes. Eric is currently writing scripts for First Family pantomimes up and down the country including this one.

The cast of Dick Whittington Code NA

Eric said: "I love writing panto scripts. Pantomime is very often a child's first visit to the theatre and it's great that I get the chance to create an experience that they love and want to repeat. I love the great British tradition of pantomime and am honoured to be a small part of that history."

Dick Whittington is the tale of rags–to–riches, telling the story of an adventurous young man who sets off to seek his fortune on an adventure to London. But, things don't go exactly to plan and Dick must take on the evil King Rat in his quest to win Alice.

This year's pantomime is produced by First Family Entertainment, who are no strangers to the Liverpool Empire having produced previous panto extravaganzas Cinderella, Peter Pan and Aladdin. Dick Whittington comes to the Liverpool Empire from this Saturday (December 12) until Sunday, January 3.

• To be in with a chance of winning the tickets, answer the following question – Which former Coronation Street star is appearing in Dick Whittington at the Liverpool Empire? Answers to henry.james@champnews.com by this Friday (December 11) at 12pm. The tickets can be used from December 12–22 inclusive.

Jim Archer with some of the members of Cantique Chamber Choir who entertained shoppers at Warbreck Garden Centre last Sunday afternoon Code NA

Singers entertain shoppers at Warbreck

CANTIQUE'S Christmas Carol repertoire entertained shoppers at Warbreck Garden Centre, Lathom, last Sunday afternoon.

Jim Archer, conductor and founder member, invited the audience to suggest their favourite carol for the choir to sing.

He said: "It was a wonderful atmosphere and I would like to thank all those who kindly donated money to our nominated charity, The Deaf Society."

This Sunday (December 13) Cantique have been invited to perform again at Tatton Hall as part of their annual Christmas Festivities. This year each stateroom features an interpretation of a traditional Christmas carol. Cantique will perform throughout the day starting at 11am.

It's panto time again at town's theatre

IT'S panto time at Southport Theatre this month.

Audiences are invited to see if Aladdin, a poor Chinese boy, can win the heart of the beautiful princess.

With a law decreeing that the princess can only marry a prince, and the evil Abanazar up to no good, it looks as though Aladdin's dream may never come true. And he's not the only one! Aladdin's mum Widow Twankey, has got the mixed–up Chinese laundry blues, her other son Wishee Washee is being particularly unhelpful, and they're also very poor. If only Aladdin could make his fortune and then all their dreams could come true.

Once again the show will be written by the BAFTA Award winning team of Iain Lauchlan and Will Brenton.

Heartbeat's David Lonsdale is donning a dress to play the glamorous laundry owner Widow Twankey and the popular Radio City presenter Claire Simmo is playing the magical Spirit of the Ring. They are joined by former Coronation Street star Scott Wright as the devilish Abanazar alongside ex–Brookside actress Ann Marie Davies as So Shi.

In addition Laura Robson is back by popular demand to play the title role of Aladdin, having made her Southport panto debut as Prince Valiant last year.

Aladdin runs from this Friday (December 11) to Saturday, January 2 2016, ww.atgtickets.com/southport

Robin Hood follows his arrows to Civic Hall

Review by Jenny Robson

• Robin Hood and Babes in the Wood
• Ormskirk Pleasure Folk
• Ormskirk Civic Hall

THAT wonderful legend who robbed the rich to distribute to the poor left Nottingham to follow his arrows to Ormsksirk Civic Hall last week in a lively, traditional family pantomime which gave Liz Wainwright her panto directorial debut.

It was a highly colourful production with MD Nancy Wells leading her team through some memorable songs. The choreography was delightful with a lovely dance by Fern the Forest Fairy (Anita Hutson) opening Act Two. The adults and children of the chorus backed up the strong cast. Daisy (Emily Parker) and Maisy (Bronte Geldart) were sweet additions to the chorus.

Robin and Marion (Georgiana Benbow and Ruby Joelson White) had perfect singing voices for their parts and Mistress Myrtle (Jim Briscoe) was very funny in his outrageously–bedecked dame costumes.

The boos were aimed at Sheriff Badlot (Steve Rutter) and his henchman, Zit (Steve Coghlan).

Robin's merry men were Big Mac (Ian Lawson), Little Joan (Michelle Hopwood) and Will Shocking–Pink (David Walters). Steph Parker was charming as Clod with her dog, Carpenter (Georgie Hopwood).

The babes – John and Mary (Harry Geldart and Millie Pendleton) – proved very brave when they were left alone in the forest by the evil Sheriff and Zit. Their father, King Richard (Kevin Bridge) was relieved when Robin (well, who else?) and friends saved his children from harm.

I didn't approve of the slap on the backside with a ruler in the schoolroom scene (not allowed now!) and the many references to hanging for the ne'er–do–wells were inappropriate for young audiences.

Apart from this it was a very enjoyable evening. Score: 7/10

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

SEXTON
Maureen

The family of the late Maureen would sincerely like to thank everyone who attended Mum's amazing service. Grateful thanks to Fr Mike, Fr Atli and Fr Tom for the wonderful service at St Francis of Assisi and Paul Rowan for his memorable service at St Helens Crematorium.

To Margaret, Tracey and all the staff at Hillcroft Nursing Home, Aughton, thank you, you helped us so much.

To Angela and the staff at Birchgreen Care Home who gave our Mum the best palliative care we could have wished for her, you were awesome, God bless you all.

To Dr Sur and all his staff for their attention to our mum over the last 3 years.

Finally our thanks to Margaret Whitelam, Linda Brophy and the staff at Skelmersdale Funeral services.

Thanks to everyone for all the cards, prayers, love and donations to the Alzheimers Association of £667.40

We are so blessed to have you all in our lives.

THANK YOU.

PRAYER

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. P.B.D.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published. 45199

The real answer to Britain's speed debate

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.blogspot.com

IT'S ironic that 50 years after the national speed limit was introduced spy shots have emerged online of what's likely to be the world's fastest production car.

The Bugatti Chiron – bet on it being one of the stars at next March's Geneva motor show – will pick up where the Veyron left off by going even faster. Which means 267mph – more than twice what a Fiesta EcoBoost will do and nearly four times of our motorway limit – is its starting point.

This is the point where you're probably about to ask the question I get punted at least four times a year – why, if we're only allowed to do 70mph, are cars like the Chiron even allowed to exist?

I've no clever answer other than to point out that all manner of devices capable of causing chaos if they're misused – kitchen knives, angle grinders, Porsche 911s and so on – are used on a daily basis by reasonable people capable of using them without getting carried away. The Chiron has as much right to trundle up the A59 as your grandad's Triumph Herald does.

So you're allowed to drive it – but using it as an instrument of driving enjoyment in Cameron's Britain is a bit like hiring U2 to do the entertainment at your mate's birthday. Spectacular, but a bit much.

Anyone who really appreciates driving will know powering along a straight isn't the fun bit – it's the corners, where light weight, supple suspension and talkative steering count for far more than simply going fast. Which is why the Fiat 124 Spider has me far more excited than anything Bugatti can come up with.

For starters it's good to see Fiat's finally realised it can make models that don't crib off the 500 – having made its city car into a seven–seater MPV, I was half–expecting a Fiat 500–based amphibious fire engine rather than a sports car. It's also based on the Mazda MX–5 so the 124 Spider should be a corker to drive, and with styling that's a bit more chic than the Japanese car.

Doing a million miles an hour isn't the point – the Fiat 124 Spider is supposed to be fun doing entirely legal speeds, which has got to be a good thing for a nation obsessed with speed cameras.

The Fiat 124 Spider is all about real world thrills.

I've no problem with stealth bombers on wheels being used (sensibly) on Her Majesty's highways – but I'd have a 124 Spider, money no object, over a Chiron any day.

Book in at Vauxhall's Tyre Hotel

As cold weather grips the nation, a local Vauxhall retailer is making it simple for Vauxhall owners to make the switch to safer winter tyres with the opening of its Tyre Hotel.

Ensuring that summer tyres are kept in tip top condition, they will be treated to a valet on arrival and regularly rotated to prevent warping. Each tyre will be properly labelled and kept away from any substances that could cause deterioration or damage to the rubber.

John Dickson, Managing Director at 06 Vauxhall, comments: "Although the safety implications of changing your tyres are clear, unfortunately motorists are often reluctant to swap their wheels because of storage issues.

"When customers purchase winter tyres, we will whisk their summer set away to one of nine Tyre Hotels across the country. Customer service is paramount for us therefore motorists can expect a swift check–in by one of our knowledgeable service team."

Essentially when the temperature drops below seven degrees, winter tyres use a rubber compound with high silica content and have a specially designed tread pattern to perform better in colder conditions by providing increased grip on the road.

Running alongside the Tyre Hotel, 06 Vauxhall, with dealerships in Ormskirk and Skelmersdale, will be offering motorists winter safety checks until March 31 2016. The Winter Safety Check is just £19.99 RRP and comprises a 25 point visual health check and vital fluid top–ups of coolant, brake fluid, screen wash and engine oil.

• For more information about the Tyre Hotel or the Winter Safety Checks at Vauxhall go online to www.06vauxhall.co.uk

Suzuki's latest model will feature a turbo engine

A SPORTIER version of Suzuki's Vitara will be the first UK model to use the company's new 1.4–litre engine.

The turbocharged petrol engine will make its debut in the Vitara S, which goes on sale in January with prices starting at £20,899.

Go to www.suzuki.co.uk for more information.

The new S model will use its new turbo engine to give the Vitara a sportier edge.

Another impressive away–day success

Scarborough Athletic 0
Burscough 3

BURSCOUGH picked up three more points with an impressive display on the East coast.

There was a sensational opening to the game with the home side having a man sent off in the very first minute. With a visiting player through on goal, Scarborough defender Paul Robson brought him down on the edge of the area and as the last man he had to go.

To rub salt into the wounds Burscough skipper Paul Williams scored from the resulting free kick.

Despite this, the visitors failed to make the most of their advantage and the score remanined 0–1 at half–time.

However the second period saw Burscough strike early again when Will Jones played a lovely through ball to Drew Lewis who slotted home to double their tally.

With half–an–hour to go the referee reached for the red card again and this time it was Burscough's Michael Monaghan who received his marching orders for reacting to a challenge.

But they made sure of all three points 10 minutes from time when Will Jones headed home from another Paul Williams free kick.

Burscough are at home on Saturday but their opponents have yet to be decided.

If the Linnets won at Marine last night (Tuesday) in the second qualifying round of the FA Trophy they will face Guiseley at home in the next round. If the Marine game is drawn, the replay will be on Saturday.

If Burscough lose they will play Clitheroe in the league.

In–form Linnets target play–off spot

BURSCOUGH are targeting promotion after a remarkable run that has been them lose just once in their last 18 games in all competitions.

The Linnets have been in blistering form of late and have set up an exciting second half to the season with fans dreaming of finishing in the play–offs in the Northern Premier League Division One North.

And it's not just their league form which has grabbed attention. They were also scheduled to travel to neighbours Marine last night (Tuesday) in the FA Trophy third qualifying round with the reward for the winners of a home tie in the First Round proper against Conference side Guiseley on Saturday.

Burscough's emergence from mid–table finishers last season – when they ended in 15th place with 48 points – to possible play–off contenders this year is a dramatic rise in fortunes for the club.

After 17 games this term, they sit fourth in the table with 37 points, just 11 shy of their total for the entire 2014/15 campaign.

Their latest success last weekend saw them return from a potentially tricky away clash at Scarborough Athletic with the points, winning 3–0 with goals by Paul Williams, Drew Lewis and Will Jones.

Club secretary, Stan Petherbridge, believes the key to the side's success is the players' attitude and commitment to manager Mark Beesley.

Speaking earlier this week ahead of the Marine fixture, Stan told the Champion: "We have players who are playing for the manager and it's great to see. We face Marine this week who are in the league above us but we are confident.

"Hopefully history will repeat itself because when we beat them in this competition back in 2003 we went on to win it.

"It will be more difficult this time around as the Conference sides take the competition a lot more seriously and they are all full–time. But if we beat Marine, hopefully we will pull in a decent crowd for Saturday's game against Guiseley.

"In terms of the league, we are doing really well at the moment and we are hoping to get into the play–offs."

Skem have high hopes of FA Trophy upset

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

AFTER shooting down Chorley Magpies 5–2 in their FA Trophy replay last week Skelmersdale United visit high–riding AFC Fylde in the next round on Saturday and although it doesn't get any easier for Tommy Lawson's side they will not be completely without hope.

While Chorley are midtable in the Vanarama National League North, Fylde are top and arguably favourites to win the division. In their ranks will be three former Skem players – Danny Lloyd–McGoldrick, Dion Charles, who had a spell with United on loan, and a hero of the club's championship–winning, Matty Hughes.

Matty moved on the Fleetwood for a considerable fee but remains very popular with the Skem crowd and has made frequent visits to games at Skelmersdale since leaving the club, while his family are even more regular followers and were actually at the Chorley match.

Fylde also have a number of players who have featured in the higher echelons of North West football. Bradley Barnes, Sam Finley and goalkeeper Ben Hinchliffe have all opposed Skem before and forward, Josh Wilson, was in the Guiseley team that United defeated in the 2012/13 FA Trophy run. He is also the cousin of former Premier League midfielder, Joey Barton.

Fylde won 2–0 at Warrington Town in the last round but they hadn't won any of their last four league games prior to last night's scheduled match at Alfreton, drawing two and losing 1–0 at Hednesford and 3–0 at North Ferriby – so they could well be vulnerable.

Former Skem favourite Matty Hughes

Speaking before last night's scheduled Liverpool Senior Cup tie at Bootle, Skelmersdale manager, Tommy Lawson, said: "We are looking forward to the match and know all about a number of their players. We play Bootle tonight and I am resting a couple of players to make sure they are at their best on Saturday, we have no immediate injury worries and we will be well prepared for the day."

Skem will travel with a good following as reportedly all coach tickets are sold for the trip to Fylde and many will no doubt travel by car to the game in Kirkham.

There is no midweek arranged for next week at the time of writing but if Saturday's game is drawn the replay will be at Stormy Corner next Tuesday (December 15) kick–off 7.45pm.

Otherwise the next home game will be on Saturday, December 19 when Ashton United will be the visitors.

Former England prop joins coaching set–up at Ormskirk Rugby Club

ORMSKIRK Rugby Club has achieved a major coup as they welcome former Sale Sharks prop and England international, Stuart Turner, to the club.

Stuart, who was part of the first Sale team to win the Aviva Premiership, joins as interim coach, filling in for head coach, Donny Sutherland, who is taking time off to recover from surgery.

Southport–born Stuart started his playing career at Waterloo then had brief spells at Orrell, Worcester and Rotherham before signing for Sale in 2001.

He went on to play 104 times for the Sharks, scoring seven tries and started the 2005–06 Guinness Premiership Final at Twickenham in which they defeated Leicester Tigers 45–20.

He was called up to the England squad for the first time in the autumn of 2006 but had to wait until the Six Nations in 2007 to make his international debut against Wales in Cardiff.

He was then in the squad that toured South Africa in the summer of 2007 and made two further appearances for his country, coming off the bench in Bloemfontein and Pretoria respectively.

Ormskirk currently lie in 12th place in Lancashire North and have endured a difficult season so far. They will be hoping that Stuart's experience at the very top level will have an impact on the team's performances and help them build on two recent victories to help them move up the table.

Club president, Nick Jacobs, is delighted with Stuart's recruitment. He said: "Stuart's experience speaks for itself and he has already had a positive impact on the training ground and hopefully this will soon be reflected by our performances in matches."

The club are currently trying to recruit players and anyone interested is invited to go down to training to meet Stuart and the lads. Training sessions are held at Green Lane from 6.30pm to 8pm on Tuesdays and at Active8 Glenburn in Skelmersdale from 7 to 8pm on Thursdays.
